Secular Organizations for Sobriety (also known as Save Our Selves): Meetings are for people suffering from either alcoholism or drug addiction. SOS encourages the use of science and reason to further develop insight into the nature of one's own drug addiction, rather than spiritual principles or God. They believe that support is critical to helping individuals achieve and maintain sobriety, SOS credits the individual for achieving and maintaining his or her own sobriety, without reliance on any "Higher Power". SOS respects recovery in any form regardless of the path by which it is achieved. It is not opposed to or in competition with any other recovery programs.
